LOCAL LEGION HAS SPECIAL EASTER CHURCH SERVICE

Impressive Program Given by Pacific Avenue Pastor and Congregation Members

"Loyalty to the God of All Nations," was the principal theme brought out last night by Rev. Harley G. Preston, pastor of the Pacific Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, in his special Easter evening service given in honor of Glendale Post, No. 127, of the American Legion. The subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. Preston, who is chaplain of the local post, was "Two Kingdoms of Warfare," it being a parallelism of the conditions surrounding the great world war, and those constantly going on in the warfare of human hearts. He said in part:

"The unending warfare of the Christian soldiers under the cross of Christ, like the war recently waged by most of the civilized nations of the world against the autocracy of Germany, is like comparing Jesus with Judas, sacrifice over selfishness or right from wrong. We cannot afford to sign an armistice with the devil in our fight for the control of mind over body."

Keep on Wearing Mask.
In analogizing the purpose of the gas mask used in the army and the ordinary catcher's mask used by baseball players with the "helmet of salvation," which we should constantly wear, Rev. Preston warned his audience against throwing off the mask, "as we don't always know who's in the pitcher's box and we're liable to get hit in the eye."

"The big evangelists of the country are the preachers of the great Christian army, and the ordinary preachers comprise the infantry and other branches whose service is that of following up the initial barrage," said the speaker.

In speaking of Americanism, Rev. Preston recently stated that "America is for Americans, and those who have the welfare of some other nation at heart had better stay there. We should let none come to our shores who are not Americans at heart, no matter what their birth."

Prior to the regular evening service the ex-service men and their friends gathered in the social quarter.

Sell $30,000 Property To Mrs. R. A. Morrow

For the consideration of about $30,000, property at 727 East Windsor Road, owned by H. N. Maberry, was sold to Mrs. R. A. Morrow through the Hart Realty company, 129 North Brand boulevard, according to a report of Charles Kausen of that company.

The report continues that this firm goes on record again backing up their former optimistic statements regarding Glendale and its future growth. It further states that "Glendale is fast becoming the hub of the San Fernando valley through which all main arteries connecting the valley with Los Angeles, will have to travel."

"There is no question that we are at the very low ebb at present so far as values are concerned and we will see an influx of substantial citizenship and steady growth, more marvelous than we have already seen," concludes the report.

Phil Carter Making Ready for Camp Life

Phil Carter, who for the past winter has been selling real estate with E. G. Warren, 200 1/2 South Brand boulevard, has severed connections for the summer months, according to one of his associates.

Mr. Carter, as is his usual custom, will open his camp, bearing his name, at Big Bear Valley. The camp, being in the mountains, is closed during the winter months but is a lively place during the summer months, it is asserted. Mr. Carter makes real estate his business when he is not busy at the camp. A number of Glendale people spend their vacations in Big Bear Valley, in San Bernardino county, and Mr. Carter expects to see a number of his friends in camp.

28 MEMBERS RECEIVED

Twenty-eight new members were received into the Pacific Avenue Methodist church in the presence of a large congregation yesterday morning, which makes forty additions to the membership in the past three months. The Easter service was marked by eight baptisms. A class of 16 boys and girls were received into preparatory membership also, and plans are being made to receive them into the church on the second Sunday of May, Mothers' Day.

IS BACK FROM TRIP NORTH

George U. Moyle, 322 East Harvard street, returned yesterday from a trip to San Francisco. Upon his return Mr. Moyle had an important appointment with the local Knights Templar Commandery, of which organization he is commander, and the train was delayed on account of engine trouble. He wired the commandery of his position and arrived later.

Safety First Gate, Safety First Rule Are Both Smashed

One of the safety gates on the west crossing over the Southern Pacific tracks at Brand boulevard crossing was smashed yesterday afternoon, making it impossible to operate the device.

Following hicc-bound instructions, the tower man closed the road until such a time as the railroad's signal department would see fit to fix the gates. Chief of Police Jean D. Fraser found traffic coming out Glendale boulevard "all gummed up," double crossing the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific tracks on a one-way road. He insisted that the gates be opened, but the towerman was obstinate. Flabbergasted, the chief invested 30 cents in telephone tolls to company superintendents in Los Angeles and had the written rules overridden and within thirty minutes a crew was out to repair the damage.

LARGE PROGRAM OF BUILDING READY FOR THIS CITY

Rommel Company Gets Contract for Monarch Auto Supply Concern's New Home

There is every indication that Glendale building permits for the month of April will easily surpass the half million mark. With ground broken for the First Presbyterians' new edifice, it is only a matter of days until that large permit is written into the record.

The Rommel Construction Company of 144-A South Brand boulevard has been awarded a contract at $53,196 for erecting a two-story brick store and office building for the Monarch Supply Company. About $10,000 more will be spent for equipment. Alfred F. Priest is the architect. It will contain four stories with two mezzanines, and 19 offices. It will be 115 by 75 feet, covering the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street.

New Store Front
Mr. Priest also has prepared plans for a new store front for C. J. Hatz at 122 South Brand boulevard. Plate glass windows, tile bases, oak floors, enameled paneling and copper shaft will give this women's specialty shop a classy entrance.

Three other sets of plans being completed by the same architect include a hollow tile residence of nine rooms to be built by W. W. Worley on Grand View avenue between Kennedy Road and Tenth street; a reinforced concrete garage building on West Harvard street near Orange for George Clayton, Dodge dealer; and a one-story brick store building, 40x140 feet on Brand boulevard at Lomita avenue for C. M. Smith. It will contain five store rooms and a double gas filling station.

Big Program Ahead
With the several improvements announced for North Brand boulevard and garage and auto show rooms building or planned for Colorado boulevard, not to forget several factory and apartment structures, there is every indication that the marked this year than before.

School and church construction should amount to a half million dollars, provided the high school bonds are voted, while the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital expects to start a $300,000 building program before the first of the year. All told, Glendale ought to reach the $10,000,000 mark in 1922 building activity.

SCENE FOR MOVIES? HUNDREDS MEET AT OH, NO! ACCIDENT G. & M. RAILWAY SUNRISE SERVICE EASTER MORN

Two Cars Crash In Head-On Collision! Reputation of Road Is Cracked
Worship at Louise Hill Well Attended; Rev. C. A. Cole Gives Brief Sermon

A regular movie thriller was staged recently on the Glendale & Montrose railway recently with the exception that there was no camera man handy. Two of the cars had a head-on collision that would get a good laugh in the Tonerville trolley series. However, it was no laughing matter with the frightened commuters. It seems that in the morning the service on the Montrose line is so frequent that it necessitates one car taking the siding for five minutes at the Canada boulevard crossing over Verdugo wash. However, the other car was late and the motorman of the inbound car believed he had priority and started down grade through the Thom orchard, the scene of many an exploit in the "Hazards of Helen," etc.

Joined from Seats
Coasting around the most dangerous curve on the line, he discovered to his dismay that the outbound car was coming to a hurried stop. Brakes screeched and the little bump that followed jolted three men from their seats.

One who had been reading a paper broke his glasses which cut his face. Another lit on his knee while the third man sat down real hard. According to P. L. Hatch, general manager of the line, these are the first injuries reported since the safety cars were put in operation in April, 1919.

Inasmuch as the cars were not damaged and the injuries were so slight, Mr. Hatch hates to register the accident against the line's record of no casualties.

Easter Eagle Rock Service
Beginning today a 20-minute service every day except Sunday is being given on the Eagle Rock line between 7 and 8:30 a. m. and 3:30 to 7 p. m. on account of the greatly increased traffic. The Eagle Rock cars connect with the Los Angeles railway's yellow line.

Ten years ago one car used to handle the entire traffic, making a trip to Verdugo park and return and then going to Eagle Rock and back on an hourly schedule.

The bride's costume includes an afternoon gown of green and silver satin with silver lace trimming and an orchid colored picture hat. The bouquet is of orchids and sweet peas.

Miss Ada Roper Harris of Des Moines, who played at the wedding of Miss Kintzley's sister, Mrs. Wagoner, is to furnish the nuptial music. The wedding is to be attended by the relatives and intimate friends of the bride. The guests include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Sherman, Mrs. Hugh E. Wagoner, Mrs. George Forbes and Miss Harris.

The young couple will remain at the Mission Inn for several days and then will tour southern California before returning to Des Moines, Ia., where they will be at home after May 15. Mr. Hassett is secretary-treasurer of investment bankers at that city.

While abroad they will be guests of Anton Lang, the famous actor, who portrays the part of Christ in the Passion Play at Oberammergau. After four months on the continent Miss Folz and her aunt expect to return home by way of the Canadian Rockies and Lake Louise.

About 600 worshippers of Glendale attended the annual Easter sunrise services at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning on Louise hill. The day was welcomed by an instrumental trio consisting of two cornets and a baritone horn played by Leslie Percy, Roland Percy and Cecil Percy of Sunland. Vocal music was furnished by a quartet composed of Paul Butterfield and Frank Butterfield, 431 Arden street, Dr. C. R. Lusby, 339 North Louise street, and Dr. P. O. Lucas, 358 Riverdale drive.

A portable organ was played by Miss Helen Inglewood of 501 West Wilson avenue. Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, pronounced the invocation and the scripture reading was made by Ernest Gregg of 319 West Wilson avenue. W. A. Horn of 221 North Louise street presided.

Talk By Rev. Cole
"But now is Christ risen," was the text of the sermon of the occasion which was delivered by Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church.

"When I speak of the fact of the resurrection, I can think of no higher or better proof than that it is accomplishing the end for which it occurred—the spread of Christianity, the uplift of society, the saving of men, the birth of eternal hope in you and me," declared Rev. Cole.

"They crucified Christ. That is a historic fact. They who had hated him without a cause, did put him to death. Everyone knew it. His death was talked about in the homes of rich and poor. The high priest knew it. Pilate knew of his blunder; the multitude knew about it. A Roman guard was placed at his tomb. It is a fact of history attested by every historian, secular or religious."

Remarkable Happening
"But it is said that he arose again. So remarkable a happening must be well established for our minds to believe it. If it be established (Continued on Page 8)

J. E. Walker, who was driving the car in which his father was hurt, said that he was so close upon the doctor's car when it backed out that he didn't have time to stop. His father's head went through the windshield, leaving a severe cut under the right eye and at the base of the nose, in addition to a piece being cut out of the tip of his nose, according to a report of Dr. Chase.

There have been ten cases in the northern and northwestern sections of the city in the last six months and more than a score of people have been treated as a result.

"If owners will keep their dogs at home it will settle the matter. Otherwise drastic action will be taken," said the health officer.

STORMS CONTINUE TO DO BIG DAMAGE IN MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, April 17.—The middle west, and particularly flood-swept Illinois, was again in the grip of the elements today. Fresh downpours and a ripping cyclone added to the loss of life and heavy property damage of the last few days. Four persons were killed and at least thirty-five injured in a cyclone this morning which almost wiped out the village of Irvington, near Centralia, Ill. A slashing rainstorm crippled Peoria and further heavy property damage was sustained. Summer cottages and manufacturing plants were inundated. At Beardstown the downpour accentuated the discomfort of the army of refugees there. Merchants worked frantically to save their stocks. ## BREAK GROUND FOR NEW EDIFICE FOR PRESBYTERIANS

Dr. Hugh K. Walker of Los Angeles Makes Address at Important Event Sunday

Ground was broken on the northwest corner of Harvard and Louise street yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock for the new Presbyterian church.

The first shovelful of earth was turned by Dr. W. D. Landis, moderator of the Los Angeles Presbytery. The second shovelful was turned by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, president of the Glendale Ministerial Union, after he had congratulated the congregation upon its forward movement and extended the best wishes of the churches of the community.

The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles. He stated that he had known a number of the parishioners for the past twenty-five years and had watched the growth of the church, since its establishment twelve years ago, with a great deal of personal interest. He confessed his amazement at its progress and contrasted in vivid terms the first Presbyterian church in Glendale with the Gothic structure to be erected.

Only Outer Shell
"After all," declared Rev. Walker, "the church building itself is only the outer shell. The real church is the congregation. They are the real power of the church. Unless you intend to work together for the Gospel of Christ, it would be better that you did not have a fine church."

However, he went on to say, that from what he knew of the church's past performance and the stamina of the congregation that he had no doubt it would continue to bring glory to God and credit to the denomination. He commented upon Easter being the observance of the Resurrection, which, he said, is "the one vital fact in our creed" and congratulated the congregation upon its ability to conduct the ceremonies upon such an occasion.

Short speeches were made by a number of church representatives. W. J. Clendenin spoke in behalf of (Continued on Page 8)

DICK KERR IS OUTLAW

CHICAGO, April 17.—Dick Kerr, former White Sox pitcher, today is definitely out of the fold of organized baseball. Following a conference with Manager Gleason of the Sox, at which it is understood Kerr's salary demands were again refused, the diminutive Southpaw signed a contract to play with the Chicago of the Mid-West league. Semi-professional Kerr made his first appearance as a semi-pro when he pitched seven innings against the Firemen. Kerr's appearance with the Sox Pros automatically bars him from the big leagues.

Broadway Smoke Shop Is Open for Business

The Broadway Smoke Shop at 229 1/2 East Broadway is now open. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ulrich and their son, L. J. Ulrich, proprietors of the establishment, and M. E. Rickerson of 529 Fairmont street, who will have charge of the soda fountain, are busy greeting their old and new friends.

The interior finish of the shop is mahogany and this wood has been utilized for all of the showcases and fixtures. Much interest is being aroused by two Chinese white pheasants mounted in a wall case. These are said to be particularly beautiful specimens. Although the store is well stocked now, Mr. Ulrich declared this morning that it would be ten days before the stock will be complete. He is very anxious that the men of Glendale should make their tobacco wants known in order that he may make arrangements at once to supply their needs.

The Broadway Smoke Shop will feature the sale of leading brands of cigars and tobaccos. Ice cream and candies will also be sold. Besides the boxed candy the store contains a line of package candies. Home cooking is a talking point for the fountain lunch service.

The Ulrich family are now located temporarily at 119 North Louise street. They arrived in Glendale February 3 and immediately decided that they wished to remain. The first thing Mr. Ulrich did was to join the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. He then began to search for a suitable location for a cigar store. Until a few months ago, Mr. Ulrich was proprietor of the Ulrich Greenhouses at Tiffin, O.

The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Certain public-spirited souls, we are informed, are wandering the length of Broadway armed to the store teeth with petitions to have Judge Landis think better of his decision in the Ruth case. They are wasting their time, although that is of slight moment. It is assumed that they have plenty of time to waste.

Long before this it has been reasonably well established that Babe Ruth will play no baseball in the American League until his suspension expires.

"The incident is closed," says Landis, and the remark is not prompted by an attitude of flouted dignity, although Ruth gave him some reason to feel that way about it. At the time Ruth not only assumed an indifferent demeanor toward the commissioner when interested persons attempted to bring them together for a conference, but previously had essayed to embarrass him before a roomful of ball players.

Landis' legal mind, however, declines to take these things into consideration. He merely regards Ruth as a law breaker, who knowingly transgressed against a baseball statute of doubtful value, a law breaker who carelessly jeopardized the interests of fellow players and the men who pay his salary.

The recent recommendation made by the editorial boards of the Yale, Princeton and Harvard undergraduate publications that intersectional competition should not be encouraged does not give with the trend of the times and it does not seem likely that they will be able to stem the tide. One reason is that the majority of sports followers differ with the idea of these three colleges, for the reason that these intersectional sports have had a fine influence, not only in promoting interest in sport, but in bringing together the young men of various sections of the country who, otherwise, never would come into contact.

A certain amount of athletics, along certain lines, now has come to be taken as a necessity and there are many institutions which make it obligatory for their students, whether men or women to participate regularly in some form of athletics for a regular given time. Among these exercises are swimming. This art, in some institutions, must be acquired before a diploma will be awarded.

In contrast to the stand taken by the three eastern universities is that taken by those of the Middle West and Far West. The University of California and the Stanford university athletes are taking the lead in the matter of intersectional competition. As is well known, both these institutions sent track teams east to compete in the intercollegiate track and field meet, while the former sent a crew east which rowed in a dual race against Princeton, and later finished second at the Poughkeepsie regatta.

International competition in all forms of sports will be larger this year than ever before. Aside from the international competition for the Davis cup, in which fourteen nations will struggle for the world's tennis supremacy, other sports are to be in the limelight.

Oxford university is sending its cross team to this country; the University of Pennsylvania at the present time is participating in track competitions in England and France; the Canadian fishermen are called on to defend the international yacht trophy on challenge from this country; an American girl's field hockey team is going abroad; Harvard and Yale are sending a combined tennis team to play Oxford and Cambridge; the proposed trip of English golfers to this country; and in the fall an international football series (English Rugby code) is scheduled between Canadian and California universities.

Some years ago the high jumper who could scale 6 ft. 2 inches was a phenomenal jumper. Then came Horne and Beeson with their world's records of 6 ft. 7 in. and better and since then the jumper who could scale 6 ft. 2 in. in hard competition was not much more than an average high jumper. Many men throughout the country are today able to scale 6 ft. 4 in. and even better and in the championships the first three men are usually not lower than 6 ft. 3 in.

In the indoor season just closed men all over the country have scaled 6 ft. 4 in. and with the outdoor season just opening up some sensational performances may be expected. Platemouth, Wisconsin, Brown of Dartmouth, Murphy of Notre Dame, Osborne of Illinois and Corey of California are some of the varsity jumpers who have done 6 ft. 4 in. so far this year.

It is with the more obscure players affected by the suspension that Landis feels the greatest sympathy. We talked with a baseball man close to the throne in Jacksonville, Fla., on this particular subject. The man's identity is withheld for obvious reason.

"Judge Landis," he informed us, "has received hundreds of letters from fans all over the country condemning him for the suspension of Ruth. Not one of them mentions the name of Bill Piercy, who, in theory, at least, is entitled to as much consideration as any other player."

"Yet they plead for Ruth, who probably loses nothing by the suspension, and ignore Piercy, who needs the money and certainly will get none of it."

"It is for Piercy and the members of the Yankee team who depend upon Ruth to win ball games that Judge Landis entertains sincere sympathy. Ruth went out on that tour with his eyes wide open. He knew the law was there; he knew that Landis would enforce it, since that was why he was elected to office. Yet he deliberately broke that law believing, I am sure, that the baseball public would rise up and demand that his services be returned to baseball immediately."

The World Over

By FRANKLIN R. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

This season, both of these institutions again will send track and field athletes to the intercollegiate. The winner of the University of California-University of Washington eight oared boat race again will be represented on the Hudson. This is all decided on and settled, and the wherewithal, from a financial standpoint, arranged for.

The presidents of all three of the Pacific coast universities mentioned are strong advocates of intercollegiate competition. Further, they are advocates of intersectional competition. If they were not it is not likely that it would be encouraged to the extent that it is.

If international competition is good, it would follow that intersectional contests are equally desirable. One need only mention the four world's blue ribbon trophies which were given in order to bring the athletes of the various nations together. These are the America's cup in yachting, the Davis international tennis cup, the Walker golf cup, and the international polo trophy.

All the indications are that intersectional and international competitions will increase rather than diminish as time goes on. The institutions that localize their competition are likely to be the losers for whatever may be the merits of an institution's course of studies, it is the athletic teams which are putting their particular universities and colleges before the public and attracting the attention of the youth. This may be a bitter pill for the faculties to swallow, but the fact remains nevertheless.

Tagging All Bases

First thing you know Washington will be demanding a congressional investigation. The Philadelphia Athletics are in third place and that seems about as right as rat poison. Furthermore, the Athletics, with Bryan Harris pitching great ball, knocked the Senators off in the first game of the series.

The St. Louis Cardinals are so sorely oppressed by the temporary loss of three regulars that they haven't lost a ball game since the start of the season.

The Cleveland Indians stepped along to the American league playoffs yesterday in stopping the St. Louis Browns in the opening game of their season. All Washington circles are excited over the fact that Walter Hays showed a return of his 1920 form in shutting out the Browns, and incidentally beating the Urban Shocker.

"Bald Dick" Rudolph, hero of the 1914 world series, essayed a comeback against the Giants yesterday and had them shut out until the seventh inning. Then the weight of years bowed the veteran down and he caved in badly, the Giants winning 5 to 2.

Lilias M'Gibbon and Percy M'Intyre Wedded

Miss Lilias M'Gibbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M'Gibbon of Columbus, O., and Percy M'Intyre of Glendale were married Saturday morning, April 15, 1922, at St. Athanasius Episcopal church in Echo park by Archdeacon Marshall, the ring ceremony being used.

Miss M'Gibbon was a resident of Glendale until last August, since which time she has been with her parents in Columbus, O. For some time she was employed with the Farnet Dye Works of Glendale. She arrived in Los Angeles Saturday morning and was met at the station by Mr. M'Intyre and her brother, Bradley M'Gibbon of Glendale.

Percy M'Intyre is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. M'Intyre of 133 North Cedar street. He was in active service over seas during the World War and is a graduate of Glendale Union High school. For some time he was employed with the engineering department of the city of Glendale. At the present time he has a position in Los Angeles.

Upon their return from a brief honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. M'Intyre will make their home in Los Angeles.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menthosulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menthosulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

Michael Collins and Party Are Fired Upon

LONDON, April 17.—Expected civil war in Ireland had not materialized today, according to messages from Dublin, except exciting scenes last night when Michael Collins and his party returning from Naas were fired upon. There were other disorders of a minor character. Arthur Griffith's speech at Sligo yesterday, in defiance of the mutineers, was looked upon as a Free State victory and strengthening of the position of the provisionals. Griffith was surrounded by troops in armored cars as he spoke.

The Daily Express today says it is possible that Arthur Griffith has been captured by insurgents at Sligo. The report is unconfirmed. In a reported early morning clash at Sligo yesterday, one Republican was killed and two were wounded. Strategic positions in Dublin were still being held today by mutineers and loyal troops. The Free State troops, however, were apparently better equipped and residents of the city were confident they will be able to suppress any disorders today, the sixth anniversary of the Easter Monday uprising in 1916.

The mutineers, under command of Rory O'Connor, consist mainly of very young men. The population plainly is unsympathetic toward them. Issuance of an official communique saying that men armed with rifles opened fire on Michael Collins last night made Collins a hero anew today. One of the assaults on the Collins' car was captured and disarmed. One of the cars used by Irish Republican army troops was captured during the clash and a bomb was found.

Republican troops attacked the Beggar Bush barracks in the early morning, but no casualties were reported. An army transport also attacked the quarters of the civic guard at Balls Bridge. The Evening Standard says Dublin is in a state of panic. Reports from Belfast say that city was quiet over Easter. In Donegal, John Collins, an ex-soldier, was taken from his home, placed against a wall and shot. He may recover.

Eamon de Valera, insurgent leader, continues to urge his followers forward. "If you want a united Ireland, go on and attain that end," he exhorts. "The turmoil will continue until independence is attained."

J. S. Armstrong Buys Singer Machine Agency

The Singer sewing machine agency is now located at 108 South Maryland avenue. John S. Armstrong has bought out the Glendale Sewing Machine Exchange at 708 East Broadway, moved its stock to the new location and changed the name of the establishment to The Singer Sewing Machine Shop. John Van der Glessen, who formerly had the agency, has returned to his home at 3913 Central avenue, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and their daughter, Miss June Armstrong, are new arrivals in southern California from Indianapolis. There Mr. Armstrong was engaged in the sewing machine business. Upon his arrival here he was somewhat disappointed at finding the Singer agency occupied. However, the family decided to remain here anyhow, and purchased a newly built home at 439 West Milford street. Negotiations resulted in Mr. Armstrong being able to secure the Singer agency after all.

Miss Armstrong will assist her father in the operation of the business. She has several samples of drawn work table covers done on the Singer without the aid of special attachments and has taught large classes in the construction of such work. She will do hemstitching and piecing for the trade in the new shop.

Besides selling various models of sewing machines, including three electrically operated and several in cabinet style, Mr. Armstrong will rent machines and keep them in repair.

WRECKS NERVOUS SYSTEM WITH HEADACHE DOPE!

Victim Thankful for Recovery After Taking Well-Known Remedy

Any reliable physician will tell you that thousands of people are today suffering from various serious ailments brought on by the use of so-called headache tablets, powders or capsules. These remedies are only temporary in their nature and leave the system in an exhausted condition. Read what one victim of headache powders has to say on the subject:

"I feel that if anyone can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines I certainly can. I suffered for ten years from severe headaches, and although I took all kinds of headache powders they just relieved me at the time. I became very nervous and run down and everything seemed to trouble me. I have taken eighteen boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills and it has made an entirely new person of me. I felt that I could not have lived without them. I do not have one headache now for every hundred I used to have, and my nerves are good and strong." Mrs. Tena A. Smith, Country Harbor Cross Roads, N. S.

Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies can be obtained at any first class drug store. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations and substitutes.—Advertisement.

their Easter dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Williams and little daughter, Mary Pearl, who have just returned to California from Carlsbad,
New Mexico.

The largest attendance in the history of the Glendale Presbyterian Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society answered roll call last night when the class room was occupied by seventy young people, it is announced.

Miss Helen Lind of Twin Falls,
Ida., who is attending the Girls' Collegiate school in Los Angeles, spent the week-end with Miss Eunice Caldwell and her sister, Miss Agnes Caldwell, at their home, 326 West Wilson avenue.

The "ark" is definitely stationed in front of the Glendale Book store at 113 South Brand boulevard. Every morning Mr. or Mrs. C. H.
Bert stocks it with "one of a kind."
Somebody has suggested taking it down to Silver lake and discovering how well it will ride the floods.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Olisher, 441
West Milford street and Mr. and Mrs.
Frank C. Kearney, 221 North Howard street, spent Easter Sunday afternoon at Brookside park. They enjoyed well-filled lunch baskets and returned to Glendale through Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Residents of North Jackson street are congratulating Harry White for his good taste in planting a row of palm trees in front of his home, 600 North Jackson street. The trees are planted between the curb and the sidewalk and greatly add to the beauty of the street, according to residents of that street.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jordan, who have been spending the winter
in Glendale at 115 1/2 South Brand boulevard, in the California apartments, leave tomorrow for their home in Gordon, Nebraska. Mr. Jordan states that he cannot praise Glendale enough and is contemplating returning to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, 226 West Elk avenue, entertained the Five Hundred club on Saturday night. The time was spent in playing cards. Those present were: Mr.
and Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mr. and Mrs.
B. Douglass Balthis, Mr. and Mrs.
Roger Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. Noble
Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Simon and Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson.

TEN CARS QUICKLY SOLD

There is certainly no slump in the automobile business of Glendale if the record of W. W. Reilly, 230 North Brand boulevard, local Hudson and Essex distributors, is to be considered. According to H. R. Gillett, of that company, they sold ten cars
between Friday night and Saturday night. Four new cars and six used machines will now accustom themselves to their new owners.

Deaths and Funerals

HENRY ROOT

W. D. Root of 110 Olive street left today for Wasco, Oregon, where he will attend the funeral services
tomorrow of his father, Henry Root,
who passed away Saturday night,
April 15, 1922, at the age of 80 years. Mr. Root's father had spent the winter in Long Beach and Glendale a year ago. He had been ill for several months and underwent an operation about three weeks ago.
Mr. Root received a telegram yesterday notifying him of his death.

WYLLIE A. JOHNSON

Wyllie Adrian Johnson passed away yesterday afternoon, April 16, 1922, at his home at 360 West Colorado street. He was born January 30, 1900. He was an ex-service man and for some time had been at Thornycroft, until a few months ago.
Mr. Johnson had been gassed and injured while in service over seas. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Charles Johnson, and a brother.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning, April 18, at 10 o'clock at the chapel of L. G. Sec-vern Undertaking company. Interment at Forest Lawn.

COMMENT

Oh, How They Hate Us!

Yet California Charms 'Em

Glendale Should Be Ready

One Can't Be Too Careful

By Gil A. Cowan

EDITORIAL of eastern journals like to make Southern California
the worst place their imaginations are able to produce. Their constituents, who are so unfortunate as to live in the middle west, southwest or east, demand bitter invectives against the nearest approach to heaven one is able to attain on this earth.

In other words, it is "sour grapes"
with them until they have actually lived here once. Without divulging any names, yet proving the point, let me quote a few paragraphs from a letter written an employee of The Glendale Evening News by an eastern editor:

"It's a rainy night and no one went out. Looking out on the soggy ground, dull sky and bare trees I actually have to laugh at human beings who stay where they are put and don't know any better.

"As Grandpa Skinner used to say:
The Pilgrims landed on Plymouth
Rock, but they didn't stay there.
Personally, I intend to land just as far west as the road goes as soon as I can, and then STAY. You know the Irishman who wanted an office told the audience that his opponent couldn't brag about being born in America because that didn't take any brains or judgment, but that any man who was born in Ireland and had sense enough to leave was worth voting for.

"You can't blame anybody for being born in Illinois, but—

"Give my regards to the palms and peppers and the poppies in the San Fernando valley; take a look at the Santa Monica hills and the bay and make sure they're still there. I'll need them in a year or two!"

California is the beautiful land of somewhere that thousands living dreary lives have been longing for.
Its flowers and sunshine, its mountains and seashore, its boulevards
and railroads, its everlasting happiness and prosperity, as compared with other places, make this state
the greatest in all America.

Pennsylvania may boast of its mines and its mills, Massachusetts
may be stuffed with manufacturing and educational facilities, New York
may be the center of population, Kansas City may be queen of the cattle range, but Los Angeles and Southern California are destined to be greater than any other favored spot on this universe.

This is not enthusiasm, not exaggeration, not Chamber of Commerce literature—it is simply stated fact.
And Glendale, as a part of the metropolitan area of Los Angeles, will be the biggest and best of its suburbs.
Pasadena may be the wealthiest,
Hollywood the ultra-fastidious,
Long Beach the center of industry,
San Pedro the port, Santa Monica bay the resort—but Glendale is so strategically located that the brains of Los Angeles will reside here.

Of course, there will be some industry, there will be some wealth,
etc., but it is the professional man,
the store owner, the school teacher,
the lawyer, the business man with interests here or in Hollywood, in Los Angeles or elsewhere, who will come to Glendale and make his home.

Therefore, Glendale cannot be backward in providing the best in the way of churches, schools, hospitals and civic institutions for such a high type of citizenship.

Neither can there be any sections of the city left undeveloped with water, gas or electricity. Nor shall streets go ungraded and parkways unattended. Everything must be made as the people who are here and coming here want it, all the same as if a guest were coming to visit.

Keep sweet! Bees in California produce three pounds of honey annually for each person in the state.

This is the news sent out by the University of California and its implications are obvious. The little stingers are doing good work in the cross pollination of fruit trees.

So don't smash the busy little bee,
just let it be.

More people killed near here Saturday night when their machine was wrecked by a Southern Pacific train.
Scores more injured in motor accidents over the week-end, all of it due to sheer carelessness on the part of someone.

How many people slow down for railroad warning sign? Such a small percentage that it isn't worthy of remembering.

How many stop at railroad crossings? Five out of every thousand drivers who are forced to do so because of a passing train!

Only a day or two ago the news dispatches told of two boys lying down in front of an oncoming railroad train, fully expecting that the engineer would see them and stop!
They flirted with death—and lost.

Drivers of cars who have others
with them, or families dependent upon them for support, cannot be too careful.

CHRIST LIVING AS

LEADER, ASSERTS

PASTOR IN TALK

Present Power, Says Preacher

at Congregational Church

In Sermon on Easter

"The Christ of Today" was the subject yesterday morning of the sermon at the Congregational church.

"Our Christ is not a dead leader but a living power," declared Rev. C. M.
Caldwell. "It is not my purpose to enter into a theological discussion but rather to indicate the value of conceiving Christ to be a living reality instead of simply a historical character.

"Is our God the same as yesterday's? We have different conceptions of Him and so, in a sense, have a different God. We are living in the same old planet, but we are living in a different world. We have a different universe since Galileo and Copernicus interpreted for us the movement of the spheres. All this affects our conception of Christ. The Christ of the different ages is different because the people of those ages
because they conceive of Him differ-ently.

Both Past and Present

"The disciples thought of Christ
as for their own people. Paul thought of Him as for his own age.
In John Wesley's and in Moody's time Christ was the purchaser of eternal bliss for those that fulfilled certain conditions. The church of 100 years ago did not consider that their Christ demanded that they carry His gospel to heathen races.

"The Christ of yesterday or the dead Jesus may be found among those who see Him only through the crucifix and can worship Him only through it as a medium and who can communicate with Him and learn of Him only through the medium of some other being.

"There are those who think only of what He did rather than what He is doing. There are those who prefer to think what He did for the blind beggars than what He did for Jerry McCauley. They place little emphasis upon what He is doing today in raising men and women from spiritual death.

"We have a Christ of today. He is not out of touch with our problems. Christ is a living force in men's minds and imaginations. He calls us to new battles and larger victories."

PLAN COMMUNITY PROGRAM

A community program to which both men and women have been invited will commence at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

The speaker of the evening will be Daniel H. Jones, field secretary of the All-Year Club of Southern California and president of the Temple Baptist Brotherhood. Soprano solos will be sung by Miss Edith Bateman, who will be accompanied upon the piano by W. W. Ellis. Miss Pearl Barry will interpret several readings, also.

RELIGIOUS VOLUMES PLEASURE RULES IN PASTOR SPEAKS TO ARE CLASSIFIED AT THIS AGE, STATES KNIGHTS TEMPLAR CITY LIBRARY DR. H. C. FUNK ON EASTER DAY

Religious and Spiritual Topics Discussed in Many Books
Offered Local Public

The Easter season so places the minds of the people generally in a receptive state that season for lowering that a desire is created to read books along theological lines and thereby increase their knowledge on religious and spiritual subjects. To meet that need the public library on Harvard street, under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, librarian, has compiled a list of books along theology, including theological books, theological, inspirational, Christian Science, missionary work, and the like. A great many of these books will prove especially interesting and helpful to Sunday school teachers and others connected with church work.

The theological books include the following volumes: "Gleanings From the Morning Star" (Davis), "Influence of the Bible on Civilization" (Dobson), "The Bible and the Drama of Doubt" (Flewelling), "Criticisms of Life" (Bridges), "Morning Thoughts" (Haverghal), "Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation" (Walker), "Jesus on Trial Today" (Webb), "History of the Conflict Between Religion and Science" (Draper), "Primer on Teaching" (Adams), "The Covenanters" (Beveridge), "Story of the Bible Told in Simple Language for the Young," "The Christian Life" (Coats), "The Exile and the Bible" (Davidson), "The Bible, Its Origin and Nature" (Dods), "The Poetry and Wisdom of the Old Testament" (Gordon), "Practical Outline" (Hamill), "The Bible, a Revelation From God" (Henderson), "How to Know the Bible" (Hodges).

Temptation to Let Down Bars
In California Very Great,
Says Pastor in Sermon

"The god of pleasure rules the age in which we live," declared Dr. H. C. Funk yesterday morning at the First Lutheran church. "Especially is this true of the Golden state, where the temptation to let down the bars and do as the Romans do, is very great. In the mad rush for social and political preferment and in the quest for gold men are blind to the value of spiritual things. The effect is to discourage the heart of the pastor or to incline him to adapt himself to his surroundings by lowering the spiritual standard of life. It is here that the one who ministers to the souls of men must be on his guard. The type of piety on the part of the pastor should not differ from that of the parishioner. He may enter into the pastimes and pleasures of other men; he may engage in such legitimate business transactions as will enable him to pay for a rainy day; but none of these things should so occupy his time or engross his mind as to cause him to neglect the special office to which he has been called."

Enough In Six Days
"Our people have enough society gossip, sporting news and business affairs during the other six days of the week and men are spiritually lean because they are not fed upon the sincere milk of the Word of God."

"Oh, the impatience of men! With our preconceived opinions we are ever ready to reject the way though it has been made ever so plain. And, again, there are those who take up with every fad and who will fall in with every wind of doctrine. They follow the impostor but they will not follow Christ. They believe in miracles of every description under heaven except the miracles in the Book of Books. They believe in every form of God except the God of love who revealed the manner of His love in giving His only begotten son."

"There are scientists who hold that a divine first great cause is a necessary hypothesis, but who maintain that this old world of ours is no longer under His personal supervision. Where is the logic? By what school of thought can men argue that God is necessary for the beginning but is not needed for the continuance? If a Divine Being is necessary to light up a star must He not be necessary to keep it blazing? Indeed, it is not inconsistent for God to form the world and then fail to look after it? If it is to His glory to shape humanity, then it is also to His glory to hear the prayers of His creatures and minister to their relief."

Cyclone In Illinois; 3 Dead, Many Injured

CENTRALIA, Ill., April 17.—Three persons are known to have been killed and thirty-five injured in a cyclone which swept over Irvington, a village south of here, early today. Relief parties are searching the debris for additional bodies and it is feared that the death toll may be increased. Injured in the cyclone were brought to hospitals here or taken to surrounding towns.

The bodies of two children were dug out of the wreckage of their homes early today. The body of an unidentified man was found in a field three miles northeast of Irvington. Many persons are missing and it probably will be hours before the exact number of killed and injured is known. In some sections of the village fire broke out in the ruins of the homes, adding to the horror. A farmer named Baldrige, living between Centralia and Walnut Hill, five miles away, was reported killed when the cyclone destroyed his home.

According to reports reaching here two daughters of Valentine Schufeler, living seven miles east of Centralia, were blown away and the dead body of one was found a mile from the Schufeler home. The other girl is believed to have been killed. Mrs. John Rapps of Irvington today was reported among the dead. Irvington is a town of 300 inhabitants six miles south of here.

Almost every house in Irvington was reported blown over and many farms in the vicinity destroyed. Physicians and nurses have been sent from here to care for the injured. Telephone and telegraph communication with Irvington was cut off when the cyclone swept down all the wires. The "twister" was the culmination of a day of storms in flood-swept Illinois.

Large Number Are Present at Morning and Night Services
at Methodist Church

Knights Templar yesterday morning attended Easter services at the First Methodist church. A large attendance was present at both services.

"The world is not saved by Christ's life but by his death," declared Rev. C. M. Crist. "But the death of Jesus came only because he was raised again from the dead and became the first fruit of them that sleep."

"The resurrection, which is the pre-eminent part of our faith is attested by seven proofs, no one of which may be considered sufficient, but the seven together present to us the basis of the most abiding conviction."

After due precaution had been taken that Jesus was really dead and the governor's seal had been placed on the tomb and the soldiers stationed to guard, the evidence of Christ's resurrection was such that the apostles had the most absolute faith in it and based their preaching upon it. They were ready to go in to all the world and preach the gospel and they were so inspired by the fact that they everyone died for their faith.

Contrary to Belief
"The Resurrection was contrary to the previous belief and the worldly interests of the apostles. Theirs was a temporal kingdom. 'We had hoped,' said they, 'that he would restore again the kingdom of Israel.' Now their leader being dead their hope was gone. They were ready to acknowledge defeat and go back to their former pursuits. Peter said, 'I am a fisherman.'"

"Notwithstanding all this, they came to have absolute faith in the Resurrection of Jesus. They had every opportunity for thoroughly satisfying themselves on this point and though they doubted when the women brought them word of Christ's Resurrection, they became convinced by seeing Him themselves. Christ appeared to them eleven times."

"Only the Resurrection of Christ can account for the marvelous change in the spirit and character of the apostles. Peter, for example, who had followed afar off and denied with curses his discipleship, after Pentecost preached with such courage and power that 3000 were converted at one time. Among his statements was, 'This Jesus hath God raised from the dead.'"

Agrees to Change
"A singularly significant testimony of the Resurrection was the change of the Sabbath. For 1500 years the seventh day had been the Jewish Sabbath. With no command to change it, yet by unanimous consent the whole church agreed to change from Saturday, the day Christ was in the tomb, to Sunday, the day upon which He arose from the grave."

"The existence of the Christian church is a proof of no mean value of Christ's Resurrection. A phantom may produce a phantom but it cannot produce a phenomenon like the Christian church."

"The work of the risen Christ down the ages is an outstanding proof of the Resurrection. A dead Christ could not transform the tens of thousands of sinners into saints. The Christians today know that Christ lives."

Mrs. Joseph Moore of Ventura Buys Property
Mrs. Joseph Moore, of Ventura, owner and grower of vast wheat orchards in Ventura county, made a purchase of two lots at the southeast corner of San Fernando and Park, according to N. L. Duncan, real estate salesman at 215 1/2 South Brand boulevard, who made the sale.

Mr. Duncan also reported the sale of two lots at East Colorado and Paloma street, Eagle Rock, within the past week.

PROFESSOR SAYS:
"INTERNAL BATHS BEST FOR CONSTIPATION"

Horace T. Dodge, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica, 25 Jacobson Bldg., Denver, Colo., writes Tyndall's Hygienic Institute of New York, as follows:

"I can truthfully say that I have had the very best results in my experience with the 'J. B. L. Cascade.' You certainly have struck the key note of many diseases. By means of the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' simple warm water cleanses the lower intestine the entire length, removes all the poisonous waste therein and keeps it clean and pure, as Nature demands it shall be for perfect health. You will be astonished at your feeling when the morbid matter is taken in an internal bath with the 'J. B. L. Cascade.' You will feel bright, brisk, confident and as though everything is working right—and it is. It absolutely banishes Constipation and prevents Auto-Intoxication. ROBERTS & ECHOLS 102 East Broadway will gladly explain to you the simple operation of the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' why it is so certain in its results, and will give you free of cost, an interesting little book containing the results of the experiences of Dr. Chas. A. Tyndall of New York, who was a specialist on intestinal complaints for 25 years in that city. I have cut this out as a reminder to get this book as soon as possible. Remember, please, it is free."

J. F. Stanford Tells Of Visit to Valley

"Bermuda onions by the millions and the finest grapefruit I ever saw in my life" was the description given of the products up in the Coachella valley by J. F. Stanford, contractor and builder, with offices at 112 1/2 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Stanford, accompanied by his wife, just returned from a week's trip to that district and they were astonished at the size of the citrus fruits which they came across. When asked about his business activities, Mr. Stanford said that at present he has three houses under construction, one for himself which, upon completion, will be for sale, and two others are being built on contract, one for Paul Branch of the Union Pacific railroad and the other for a resident in Montrose.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Advertisement.

lished as a historical fact, other difficulties of the Christian faith disappear.

"We read the lives of founders of other religions and the facts do not place them above ordinary men. That is not true concerning Jesus. The facts of His life place him far above the sublimest personage the world has ever known—His character unimpeachable; every word and act, Godlike. It is in harmony with all right thinking that He should arise from the dead.

"Above all other facts of history, this one has undergone the closest scrutiny. Men of critical minds, most capable of weighing testimony, have gone through all the evidence and have declared that in all history there is no better established fact. And some of them began their work as unbelievers and ended it by giving Him the faith of their hearts.

Seen By Large Numbers

"It is not fiction of the excited mind. No theory of unbelief can account for the confidence of His apostles in His resurrection—confidence sufficient to cause them to die for Him. No theory that the appearance was a hallucination is thinkable. It would be psychologically impossible to thus deceive. He was seen by 500 at one time and by his disciples at different times.

"What is Christendom, but a mighty monument bearing witness to the fact of the resurrection? Name a higher specimen of civilization than that developed by Christ's gospel. Can it be considered the offspring of a lie or fancy? No, no, Christ is not dead. He lives!"

Harry Girard Helps Thornycroft Patients

Why did Louis T. Grant of San Francisco, manager of the Twelfth District of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, at first refuse to permit the government contract with Thornycroft to be extended two weeks and then a few minutes later change his mind?

Harry Girard, 245 South Orange street, says he knows. Thursday night he was advised of the situation. He immediately sent a 200-word telegram to a personal friend in Washington, Col. George McKeeby, judge advocate of the United States regular army. Mr. Girard urged an investigation of the situation and believes Col. McKeeby immediately got busy, and sent instructions by wire to the Pacific coast.

"If the boys like Thornycroft, why shouldn't they stay there?" inquired Mr. Girard. "I am going after this thing because I think a lot of dirty politics are being 'pulled.' I am not fighting for Thornycroft; I am fighting to have this whole thing investigated."

Transferring tubercular patients to the foggy region of Sawtelle is considered extremely inhumane by Mr. Girard. He thinks that it would be much more sensible to erect a sanatorium in some high region like Tujunga. He is of the opinion that sixty per cent of the boys would be cured if sent to the high, dry plains of Nevada.

"Every doctor in the country knows that foggy air at sea level is poisonous to tubercular patients. I tell you it is terrible!" declared Mr. Girard.

Mr. Girard believes that members of the Disabled Veterans' Association have been intimidated by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

"One boy was told that if he didn't 'shut his mouth' that they would get him, and that he had better go to Australia," asserted Mr. Girard.

Divorce Hard Hit in Picture, 'The Cradle'

Divorce—one of the most conspicuous of modern social institutions, is given a decisive rap in the story of Ethel Clayton's new Paramount picture, "The Cradle," which is shown at the T. D. & L. theatre today. Statistics show that divorce is steadily increasing and pulpit, press and judicial systems have discussed the question and sought in vain for a remedy.

As is strikingly pointed out in this picture the separation of a man and wife is especially cruel and unjust when the happiness and future destiny of a child or children are involved.

The beauty of the theme lies in the fact that in this story, the parents are brought to realize the injustice of their course and through love of their child are reunited.

The photoplay is an adaptation by Olga Printzlau of a French comedy by Eugene Brieux.

Henry C. Jensen to Build Another Theatre

Henry C. Jensen, who built the T. D. & L. Palace Grand theatre here and now has a business block under way adjoining his playhouse, has had plans prepared by Architect E. E. B. Mainardus for a one-story, Class A. theatre building, 66 by 140 feet, to be erected on the corner of Melrose avenue and Heliotrope drive, Hollywood.

Business Is Good; Theatres Prove It; Houses Are Packed

"No better business barometer than the theatres," and Saturday night the local playhouses were "turning 'em away." The T. D. & L. house started its new policy of picture features only and played to packed houses. The Glendale Theatre, with its big time vaudeville, found it impossible to accommodate all who wished to attend the night performances. Again last night the theatres were filled while the twilight recital at the Glendale drew more than 1000 music lovers.

Of course, it is recognized that only the best pictures are played here almost simultaneously with their Los Angeles premieres, and as a result Glendale people are glad to patronize their home town theatres.

the elders; T. W. Preston of 330 North Jackson street represented the trustees; W. E. McCormick of 539 North Jackson street represented the deacons. The Christian Endeavor societies were represented by George Daugherty of 219 North Adams street; Sabin Buck of 112 South Jackson street; Miss Mildred Elliott, 408 Ivy street, and Helen McCormick of 539 North Jackson street.

Mozart's "Gloria" from the "Twelfth Mass" and "The Heavens Declare the Glory of the Lord" by Wilson were sung by the Presbyterian Church quartet consisting of Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, 122 West Arden street, soprano; Mrs. Fanny Marple Retts, 114 West Park avenue, contralto; Everett Anderson, 1125 East Maple street, tenor, and Clifford Riggs, 336 Salem street, baritone.

Rev. Edmonds Presides

On account of illness, Rev. and Mrs. Keith L. Brooks of Eagle Rock were unable to be present and play the two saxophone selections. A piano was taken to the scene on a truck. Miss Mabel Cunningham of 1224 North San Fernando Road played "The Holy City" by Adams and "Calvary" by Rodney. She was accompanied by C. K. Aston of 207 North Orange street upon the cornet.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church, presided, and expressed his extreme pleasure in the occasion. He traced briefly the development of the church and touched upon the "high spots" in its career. According to Rev. Edmonds, however, the work of the Glendale Presbyterian church is just beginning.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Louis Tining, assistant pastor of the church. The program lasted about an hour and a half. At its close those present joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Montrose Railway Co. Sells Land Holdings

One of the largest real estate transactions consummated in the hill region for some time was completed last week. The Great Western Improvement Company of San Francisco, owners of the Glendale-Montrose Electric Railway, sold to Mark S. Collins of La Crescenta the remainder of its holdings in Montrose and La Crescenta townships.

About forty acres are included in the transaction. The land is divided by the Glendale and Montrose line and lies between Honolulu avenue and the hills. Much of this tract has been subdivided already. Many streets are in and others are being laid as rapidly as possible.

In order to induce homebuilding immediately among those of limited capital, credit on a lumber bill is being allowed with every first payment on a lot. The buyer is supposed to build his own home. Terms are as low as $25 down and $15 a month. The prices of the lots range around $450. To this is added the cost of the lumber. Mr. Collins reports that a large number of families are taking advantage of the offer.

Six months ago Mr. Collins purchased half of Montrose township from Miss Mira Hershey of Hollywood. This included the ten-acre park in the center of Montrose and 600 residential lots, all of which have been sold. One hundred houses have been built or are under contract.

Mr. Collins is associated with L. M. Tillinghast in the real estate business. They maintain offices in both La Crescenta and Montrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carroll entertained Sunday with a very pleasant Easter dinner in honor of Mrs. Mary E. Carroll and sister, Mrs. Laura Carroll of Exeter, who have been their guests for the past week. The table was prettily decorated with American Beauty roses and bridal wreath.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Mary Carroll, Mrs. Laura Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Putnam, Marjorie and Dorothy Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. East, Mrs. Clara Van Dusen, Bob East, Bobbie Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, Charles Carroll, Jr. The two Mrs. Carrolls, who were the guests of honor are leaving today for their home in Exeter, making the trip by motor via the Ridge route.

ters of the church for an hour of entertainment, after which they were served with a light supper. The meeting was opened by Rev. Preston, who explained the nature of the occasion and concluded with the introduction of local Post Commander James F. McBryde and City Manager William H. Reeves, the latter being a Legionaire.

Community singing by the audience of "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "There's a Long, Long Trail," and various other soldier songs was then the order of the program, followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. W. W. Warriner and several piano selections by D. S. Hollingshead.

Keaumoku A. Louis, well-known local Hawaiian tenor and a member of the American Legion, then delighted the audience by rendering "Somewhere" and "Face to Face," to Mr. Hollingshead's accompaniment. For his encore number he sang the prologue to the opera "Pagliacci."

Program Big Success

Mrs. Donald Magill, until recently of Washington, D. C., concluded the program with several carefully selected and excellently rendered humorous readings.

The evening service was opened at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. Preston, who introduced the officers and members of the executive committee of the local American Legion Post as "the other preachers." Commander James F. McBryde responded by telling of the nature, personnel and purpose of the American Legion.

Stress was laid upon the meaning and significance of the Legion's preamble, which is published on every membership card.

Brief talks by Councilman S. P. Davis and C. B. Gutrie, chairman of the executive committee of the post, then took place, followed by specially arranged musical program by the church choir, assisted by Mr. Louis.
